

THIRTY-FIFTH ANNUAL
INSOLVENCY CONFERENCE
CALIFORNIA BANKRUPTCY FORUM

LA QUINTA RESORT AND CLUB • MAY 19-21, 2023

President's Message

Welcome to the California Bankruptcy Forum!

As the 2022-2023 President of the California Bankruptcy Forum (“CBF”), it is a privilege to welcome you.

CBF is the leading volunteer organization for insolvency attorneys in California, with nearly 1,000 members in seven local fora located throughout California. Membership consists of attorneys specializing in bankruptcy and insolvency-related law, as well professionals from related disciplines including accountants, brokers, trustees, turnaround specialists and other insolvency professionals.

Since 1988, CBF has been committed to providing professional education, improving and clarifying practices and procedures in California bankruptcy courts, and providing a forum for dialogue between insolvency professionals and bankruptcy judges.

CBF advances its mission primarily through the organization of a large annual conference each May, and the regular publication of scholarly articles in the California Bankruptcy Journal. For the last nine years, CBF has also provided financial support of pro bono bankruptcy services throughout California. CBF also oversees the activities of the seven local fora in California, each of which actively advances the mission of CBF at the local level by sponsoring educational and professional programs.

CBF's local fora are located in Sacramento, the San Francisco Bay Area, the Central Valley, Los Angeles, Orange County, the Inland Empire, and San Diego. Each of the local fora is led by its own Board of Directors, and each forum selects three representatives to sit on CBF's Board of Directors. These regional fora provide their members with educational and social programs throughout the year. Upon becoming a member of a local forum, you will become a member of CBF as well.

In 2022, CBF held its 34th Annual Insolvency Conference in Monterey, California. For 2023, CBF plans to hold its 35th Annual Conference in La Quinta, California at the La Quinta Resort. The 2023 conference will be a unique opportunity to attend excellent educational programs in a relaxing and fun setting, and to connect with colleagues and friends. The conference will feature programming options geared toward both business and consumer issues, and programs for Young Insolvency Professionals.

In connection with the 2023 conference, CBF will continue its support of non-profit organizations throughout California that provide services to unrepresented bankruptcy filers and litigants. Each year, a portion of the conference registrations and voluntary contributions are set aside to create a fund which is donated to a project to improve and enhance the services provided to pro se filers. Being involved with the pro bono project and witnessing firsthand the meaningful difference it can make has been one of the highlights of my time as an officer of CBF.

As noted above, CBF also assists in publishing a scholarly journal called the California Bankruptcy Journal. The Journal typically publishes two to four issues each year. It is available on Westlaw and has been cited in more than 70 published opinions, including those of the U.S. Supreme Court. All CBF members receive a subscription to the California Bankruptcy Journal as a benefit of membership.

Please do not hesitate to contact me or any other board member to become more involved with CBF activities or to share your thoughts on how we can continue to improve the organization.

I look forward to this being an exciting year for the insolvency community. I hope you will join me and my fellow CBF board members at the May 2023 Conference in La Quinta!

Interested in learning more about receivership? Not sure where to start or who to talk to? Kick off your conference by joining the California Receivers Forum and their members for coffee and a conversation. Connect with old colleagues, meet new ones, and learn about the intersection of receivership and bankruptcy.

9:00 – 10:00 AM

Ante Up: The Rise of Receiverships in 2023 (MCLE*)

Some receiverships are economy insensitive; others are driven by market volatilities, inflation, and other economic pressures. The current downturn presents unique challenges and opportunities to restructure and/or repurpose troubled assets and businesses, including in emerging market sectors and regulatory environments. Join a cross-section of the best and brightest receivers from across California who will share their current work and wisdom in the federal and state courts, and their future projections where receiverships are and will be most active and beneficial.

As the use of electronic discovery continues to expand, so does the list of ethical issues attorneys must consider, particularly issues around protecting client information. The “duty of competence” requires an attorney to stay abreast of the benefits and risks associated with relevant technology in the legal practice. Join our distinguished panel in discussing attorneys’ ethical responsibilities tied to e-discovery and data security (including special issues arising in the age of remote work), best practices to prevent and address inadvertent disclosures and data breaches, and the pitfalls of transitioning to a more paperless profession.

Concurrent Session
Fold and Live to Fold Again: Perspectives on Mass Torts (MCLE*)

Recent mass tort bankruptcies, such as PG&E, Purdue Pharma, Boy Scouts of America, LTL Management/J&J, Aearo/3M and the dioceses cases, have attracted significant national attention not only from practitioners but also from the general public, as issues like the use of the Texas two-step maneuver or the permissibility of non-consensual third-party releases have begun a larger debate over how companies facing mass tort liabilities have used (or, according to some, abused) the Bankruptcy Code. This panel will explore the evolving landscape of mass torts.

Such agreements may be entered into either prepetition or post-petition between the debtor and some of its creditors. Our panelists will discuss the benefits of RSAs/PSAs to debtors and creditors, the terms which need to be included, the circumstances where RSAs/PSAs are a good option for debtors, and their applicability in middle market or Subchapter V cases in California.

8:00 – 9:00 AM

Roll the Dice: Cannabis Restructuring and Receiverships (MCLE*)

A cannabis business, whether a plant-touching operation or a provider of goods and services to a plant-touching operation, has limited options when it comes to a wind down, work out, or liquidation. Cannabis remains illegal at the Federal level and falls underneath state jurisdiction, therefore cannot seek protection from the Bankruptcy Court. As such, cannabis related businesses do not have the benefit of a court approved restructuring as provided by Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code and do not receive the benefit of an orderly liquidation as provided by Chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code. This session will explore the remedies available for a failing cannabis business, including restructuring, receivership, and Assignment for the Benefit of Creditors. These industry experts will touch upon, how the industry has matured, how the rights of secured vs unsecured creditors have evolved, equity partnership disputes, tax liabilities and the licensing and regulatory effects at both a state and local level.
